School bond issue would hike tax by 26 per cent

The issuance of $6 million in bonds for construction of two new Canyon School District schools will hike taxes by about 26 per cent, Supt. Jerry Jacobs and Financial Advisor Bob Davis said Monday.

Taxes will also have to be hiked somewhat to pay for increased operating expenses when the two new schools open, but the district's general operating budget is not expected to rise more than 7.5 to 8 per cent because of the new schools, Jacobs said.

The 26 per cent hike figure does not include the tax hike local school officials expect next year due to legislative action on a school finance bill last spring nor the tax hike anticipated to take care of inflation.

Jacobs and Davis released the possible tax hike figures late Monday after meeting during the afternoon to go over probable bond maturity schedules.

In figuring the possible tax increase which will be mandated when bonds are issued for the construction projects, Jacobs said he did not project an updating of tax valuations in the district. Nor did he project future operating expenses.

He did, he said, figure the bond payment schedule based on today's valuations and today's tax rate. Currently, taxes in the school district are assessed at a rate of $1.92 per $100 valuation on 40 per cent of the 100 per cent valuation.

However, district tax officials have said valuations are well below the 100 per cent figure throughout the district because of inflation and the hike in building and land costs. District valuations were last updated in 1967.

A 26 per cent tax hike to service the bonds would, using today's tax figures, put the tax rate at near the $2.50 per $100 mark.

Jacobs said the $6 million in bonds would hike the district's bonded indebtedness from about $300,000 annually to about $760,000 annually which must be serviced.

He said the maturity schedule now being considered is for a 20-year period.

But, Davis said he hopes the district can pay off the bonds in between 15 and 20 years to save interest.

An interest rate of 6½ per cent was used to figure the bonded indebtedness and bond pay-out schedule, according to Davis, but he said the interest rate available when bonds are sold could be somewhat lower than that.

"He's ultra-conservative on them," Jacobs said of Davis' interest figure estimates.

The superintendent explained that in figuring the possible impact of the bonded indebtedness increase on local taxes, he was unable to project into the future with any certainty.

"There's no way we can make an accurate prediction on operating expenses," he said, "because of the legislature and the way it is. There's only one thing to do and that's look at the situation as it is today and see what a pay schedule for 20 years would be and look at our appraisal techniques and our current valuations of about $74 million, project a realistic figure on natural growth and then quit as far as tax values."

By not projecting future operating expenses or the impact of a possible re-evaluation on property, he said, "we could come nearer shooting square than we would using any other method."

Isolating the 26 per cent increase figure as applicable only to the bonded indebtedness increase, Jacobs then said operating expenses for two new schools could be expected to increase the operating budget for the district by only 7½ to 8 per cent.

That net increase would not be higher, he said, because with an increase in average daily attendance the district is allocated increased funds from the state.

Inflation, which is running between 8 and 10 per cent annually, will also add to the operating budget requirement next year, he said.

And, so will the legislature's passage of a school finance bill last spring. The bill mandates that the district must come up

City employees Lola Caraway and Misty Wilson toured the new city hall complex here this week. Among the architectural features of the new structure is a sky-lighted stairway to the second floor of the building. City officials expect to be in the building before the first of the year. They are currently waiting for the arrival of new furnishings before the move is made.

Opposition voiced on bond issue

A Canyon man who offices in Amarillo said this week he intends to organize a citizens effort to defeat the issuance of $6 million in bonds for construction of two new schools in the north part of the Canyon School District.

Stan Collins of 1106 Creekmere also called for local voters to turn out the current school board and replace it with a new board.

Collins said flatly that he opposes the issuance of the proposed $6 million for new school construction because new schools should not be built to support Amarillo children.

"I intend to organize an effort against it," he said. "I don't see how anybody can be for it."

Terming the current Canyon school board "missionaries," Collins also called for residents to vote in a new slate of school board members "who will concentrate on improving and maintaining existing facilities for the benefit of children living within a practical distance of Canyon or where closer schools do not exist."

Collins' opposition to the bond issue seems to stem from the fact that the school board has said it intends to build a new high school in the north part of the dis-

The department received last week two new cook stoves, two upright freezers, a refrigerator and two coffee makers. Longest says the new system will save county money.

Joint sessions are resumed

Officials will eye costs of shared services

Officials of four governmental units in Randall County established a study committee Wednesday to review costs involved in the exchange of services.

The committee, consisting of one elected official from each entity, is to study the fees charged for such exchange services as fire fighting, computer listings and tax office information.

They are to report back in about two months with a standardized formula for figuring fees which might be charged by each entity for specific services rendered any other entity.

Serving on the committee are Randall County Commissioner Dee Griffin, Canyon City Commissioner Jim Christopher, Potter County Commissioner Bob Hicks and Amarillo City Commissioner Keith Taylor.

They were appointed during an 1½-hour meeting of the four commissioners Wednesday in Amarillo, the first such joint meeting in at least a year and a half.

Amarillo City Manager John Stiff suggested the joint study approach to the problem, saying he thought the study should cover a possible standardized formula for figuring fee rates for all shared services.

"If you perform some service for Amarillo, there should be the same procedure as if Amarillo performed the service for you," he said. "We're doing a lot of sharing of costs and we can take these and see if there's any uniformity and possibly go from there."

Amarillo is currently charging Randall County a flat yearly fee for the fighting of rural fires. Randall County charges the city a fee for a computer listing of automobiles in the county. The city charges the county for a computer listing of new properties within the city limits.

While the join study of fees will be a possible future agenda item for the joint governmental meetings, which Amarillo Mayor John Drummond said he hopes will continue in the future, several other items were also discussed at the initial Wednesday session.

Stiff suggested the City of Amarillo would like for the four commissions to discuss the possibility of a joint jail facility for the metropolitan area. And, he said the commissions should also discuss the joint purchasing of materials.

Amarillo Commissioner Clay Briggs suggested the future discussion of the Metro Intelligence Unit.

Griffin suggested discussion of land use between the City of Amarillo and Canyon.

Stiff agreed such a discussion could be valuable, particularly if it could result in the establishment of minimum standards for such rural items as streets and roads construction, use of septic tanks and water wells.

Potter County commissioners also stressed the need for discussion on Amarillo participation in financing new road construction leading to the city-owned dump ground landfill west of that city.

In other business, the commissioners discussed briefly their plans for future bond issues.

Canyon Mayor Manly Bryan said the only possibility of a bond issue for Canyon might come next spring when the city parks and recreation board might recommend a bond issue to finance new park facilities.

Other than that, he said, some time in the future, probably at least two years away, would be the possibility of bond issue for

Others defend county spending

'Where we going?' Fulgenzi wants to know

It was nearly 4 o'clock and Randall County's commissioners had in the previous three hours authorized the expenditure of about $10,000 in unbudgeted tax money.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi, a burly chain-smoker who pops his glasses on and off his nose in irregular rhythm for emphasis, leaned back in his seat, obviously not ready to adjourn what had been an almost typical commissioner's court meeting.

"I'm sitting here and I'm just wondering 'where are we going,' " Fulgenzi said, the earpiece of his glasses in the corner of his mouth. "I'm getting fuzzied up on my responsibilities. Is it to the county as a whole or to the people in Amarillo? Between Canyon and Amarillo, they're picking up 87 per cent of the tab for services but it's going back to the county."

A five-year veteran of the commission, Fulgenzi represents a largely urban precinct in the northwest portion of the county. The bulk of his constituents live inside the city limits of Amarillo.

"I don't know what we're doing for them," he said.

Fulgenzi indicated he's had increasing pressure from his voters to lay out for them what county government is doing for the urban resident.

"I'm really getting disturbed about it," he said. "I don't see where we're going."

Fellow commissioner Jim Fletcher, a farmer who represents a rural-urban precinct in the northeast portion of the county, poked his finger in Fulgenzi's direction.

"I think the people in the urban areas receive much more than what appears on the surface," he said. "Ninety-six per cent of the welfare business is in the two cities. In the area of law enforcement, really all crime is in the urban areas. Ninety-five per cent of the criminal element is from the populated areas. Law-abiding citizens fail to see that a lot of things that are covered by the county have no bearing on rural people."

Rural areas, too, Fletcher said, account for only a small number of license tags issued annually.

"I'm beginning to think as Canyon and Amarillo grow, county government has got to become more conscious of the industrial areas," Fulgenzi countered. "How long can we continue to look to this group of people?"

"We'll never be able to isolate our society," Commissioner Paul Lindsey, a former Canyon mayor who now represents the bulk of rural county area, said. "I'd sure love to tear down these walls. The city has to have the rural and the rural has to have the cities."

Lindsey, who has been a consistent voice for fiscal responsibility on the court, said the question of where the tax money comes from "is beside the point."

The point is, he said, is the money being used in a responsible way?

"We'd better go to thinking of the operation of the whole county structure," he said. "Is the money being spent right? I don't think any one of us has the time to be financial advisor to the court and we need to look at a qualified person to take control of our spending. We need a qualified person to get on top of it. Really we better be looking for someone to get our house in order."

While Fulgenzi remained noncommital on Lindsey's proposal, he did agree that county spending poses a serious problem, noting that in the past year the county's budget has increased from about $1 million to $1.7 million.

But, his earlier questions about the direction in which county government is moving were left unanswered, and the commissioners adjourned.

In earlier business, commissioners authorized Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax collector, to purchase two new computer programs from West Texas State University's computer center for about $2700 for the computer handling of delinquent tax accounts receivable and for the providing of

Crime really paying for city law breakers

Perhaps crime doesn't pay, but people accused of breaking the law in Canyon are paying at a steady clip.

Corporation court fines, as those monies paid for traffic fines and the least serious misdemeanors, all heard in municipal court are called, are likely to amount to some $26,000 this year. Already, the city has collected some $13,181.85 from April through September, city financial officer Mrs. Marguerite Strain said.

In fact, traffic offenders contribute substantially to the general fund, for after ad valorem taxes and sales taxes, the largest sources of city revenue, corporation court fines trail only residential garbage collection fees and franchise taxes as sources of revenue in the city budget this year.

The general fund doesn't, however, include water and sewer revenue.

Over the years, Canyon's income from fines has climbed steadily, with $24,324 collected for fiscal year 1974-75. The year before that, fines amounted to $18,327, which was a sharp increase over the $13,812 the city received in 1971-72.

The increase is probably the result of more tickets being written and changes about 1972 in the fine schedule said city court clerk Jessie Booth.

Mrs. Strain had another explanation:

"We've just got more mean people."

Solar energy urged for schools

If the Canyon school district is to have two new schools, a West Texas State University physicist believes the schools should use the natural advantages of Panhandle weather to conserve energy.

Dr. Vaughn Nelson, head of the physics department and a long-time proponent of the use of solar and wind energy, said the natural energy sources are a natural for use in the two school buildings, particularly since the federal government is now offering grant subsidies for such projects.

The Texas Panhandle, Nelson notes, ranks tops in the nation in terms of the applicability of wind energy for home or business use because of the high average wind speed.

The Panhandle ranks second in the nation in terms of the usefulness of solar energy, he said.

Both could be used to advantage, to save fuel costs, in the new elementary school and new high school proposed for construction in the north part of the Canyon School District, Nelson said.

He has suggested the alternate energy sources to Supt. Jerry Jacobs and has also provided Jacobs with information on possible federal funding for such projects.

In addition, Nelson has offered to help the school district contact the appropriate persons in business and industry to establish the systems here.

Nelson said there are several advantages to the use of solar and/or wind energy in the school buildings. One is the overall savings in fuel costs over the years due to the operation of the systems. Another is that the initial cost for the project can be subsidized possibly, by grants from the federal government.

But, he says, there are also some disadvantages. One disadvantage is that the use of solar and wind energy for schools is largely a new and untested technology and there are go guarantees the systems would be adequate.

Other schools around the country have used solar energy for fuel, Nelson said.

Meagan Swatzell, 7-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Swatzell of Canyon, attended her first Veterans Day breakfast Tuesday along with her grandmother and was awake just long enough to grab hold of a poppy, bubble at her relatives, and yawn. About 50 persons, all of them older than Meagan, attended the annual breakfast, which is sponsored by the American Legion here.

Eagles Take On Lobos For Last Game

The Canyon Eagles will close out their 1975 football season, one of mixed success, this weekend with a trip to the South Plains for a final bout against the Levelland Lobos.

While the Eagles are heading for a win to cap the first season of Coach Deane Wright, there will be impetus, too, to give next year's probable starters some valuable game experience.

Both the Eagles and the Lobos are out of the running for the District 1-AAA crown, that title havvng gone to Perryton, but the Levelland game is a traditional battle for Canyon.

Wright, whose team this year has compiled two victories, two ties and the remainder defeats, would like to add another win to the first column.

The high-scoring Lobos, who have been scored on defensively, themselves, will pose an offensive threat for the rugged Canyon defense, which has provided the mainstay effort of the Eagles this year.

Wright said the Lobos are paced in the rushing department by Lorenzo Childers, a 5-10, 150-170 pounder, who has been instrumental in the Levelland scoring streaks.

In addition, if Childers is bottled up by the Canyon defense, the Lobo quarterback can also be a threat, working out of the Houston offense.

Consistency has been the big Lobo problem this year. Levelland beat Lubbock High School 28-27 early in the season. Lubbock has since won its district title.

The Lobos also beat Floydada, which also won its district crown recently.

They scored 15 points on Perryton before falling to the Rangers by only a seven-point margin. Dumas hit the Lobos by a score of 22-17.

"They score very well," Wright said. "But, their defense gives up a lot of scoring. Their offense far outweights their defense."

The opposite is almost true for the Eagles, with a Canyon defense giving up only 2.9 yards per carry average through the games up until Friday night.

The defense held the Muleshoe Mules, in the district cellar, to only 128 yards offensively last weekend, but the win over the Mules didn't altogether please Wright.

"We were not up to par on defense," he said.

After cinching the win last Friday, Wright gave his players, particularly those who will return next year to form the nucleus of a 1976 squad, an opportunity to get game experience.

"Everybody played that wasn't hurt," he said.

Wright, while working toward a win against the Lobos, will also be looking for ways to provide his future starters with more experience Friday night.

He said Tuesday he'll probably start Allen Shankles at quarterback, but anticipates that Ricky Cooper, a junior, will see a good deal of action.

Jack Wright and Gary Ward are expected to start at the back positions on offense with Kenny Basinger at fullback. Jonathan Hull, another returner next year, will also see plenty of action against the Lobos.

Juniors will also get their chance at the offensive and defensive line positions.

Game time for the Lobo outing will be 7:30 p.m. at Levelland's high school field.

Lettermen Boost Eagle Cagers

With seven lettermen returning from a season the Eagles finished out with success, Canyon Coach B.B. Kendrick leads his team into their final week of pre-season workouts before beginning in a scrimmage session this weekend against Plainview.

Kendrick, who has coached the basketball Eagles here for eight years, has a bolstered program at the varsity, junior varsity and B team levels this year for the first time in his tenure.

And, he's got a pre-season optimistic pat on the back from a Panhandle basketball magazine, which gives his Eagles the favorite position in the district to take the conference title when it's all over after the first of the year.

Altogether, then, Kendrick is a bit optimistic himself about the Eagles' chances for the season, which officially opens next weekend when Canyon takes on Floydada at Floydada at 7:45 p.m. Friday.

In the personnel department, Kendrick feels he will field a good squad of experienced lettermen with the return of John Johnson, a 6-4 senior, who made the first team all-district last year; Hoss Ratliff, a 6-3 senior, who started last year for the team; Ken Cooper, another returning starter at 6-2; Mark Nelson, who started periodically for the Eagles last season; Mike Flynn, another periodic starter last season; and Ricky Cooper and Brian Dodson, both lettermen returning to this year's squad.

The Eagles will be without the services of James Walling, a starter last season, who moved to New Mexico at the start of this school year.

Experienced junior varsity players will move up to fill out the 11-man squad Kendrick will field. Among them are LaMoyne Davis, a 6-3 junior; Roy Davis, a 6-0 junior; Richard McDonald, a 6-2 senior, and John Prater, a 6-3 junior.

"For the first time in a long time we have good depth," Kendrick said of this year's Eagles. "We've never been able before to go to the bench and keep consistency."

Another advantage of the returning starters is that they finished up the 1974-75 season on a winning note, by winning 10 of the last 14 Eagle games. Even so, Canyon ended up the season with a 16-17 record.

The Eagles face the same sort of tough schedule this year, beginning the year with some big AAAA schools before going into district action.

Early on, for example, the Eagles meet Floydada, Hereford, Caprock, Spearman, Amarillo High and others.

In addition, Kendrick has scheduled the Eagles to play in a new Hereford Tournament in early December, a tournament which will draw the state championship Lamesa team, the AA state champion pick this year, Morton, and Brownfield as well as others.

"I'm looking forward to a good year," Kendrick said. "All our starters have been in the gym since school started."

While noting that the team has been chosen by at least one regional magazine to top the district, Kendrick is cautious in his assessment this early in the season.

"By the time district gets here you don't know what will happen," he said. "But, we will be much-improved."

Looking to district action, Kendrick sees the Perryton Rangers as the team to beat on the road toward the district title.

Levelland, he says, will also be a tough team.

In addition to good personnel, Kendrick believes he's come up with a one-of-a-kind defense during the summer off-season months which the Eagles can use to good advantage this season.

During the summer, he said, he tried to second-guess the defensive efforts which opponents might make against the Eagles' offense this year, and in doing so, came up with a plan of defensive action which he's never seen used before.

Essentially, the defensive pattern is based on the philosophy that the best defense is a good offense and gives the option to the defense to force the offense to play the Eagles' game.

"It works against us," Kendrick said, but he'll get a real chance to try out his plan against Plainview in this weekend's scrimmage here.

The scrimmage is scheduled for 2 p.m. with no admission charged to enter the CHS gym.

The team will travel to Clovis, N.M., Tuesday for another scrimmage, this one at 4 p.m. (MST).

WT Roundballers Scrimmage For Press On Friday

The third annual "meet the team" luncheon for the West Texas State University basketball team will be held Friday, Nov. 14, at the Amarillo Civic Center.

An activity filled day is on the agenda with a press session scheduled at 10:45 a.m. and a free luncheon for the press and public beginning at 11:45 a.m.

The program of the day will begin at 12:15 a.m. with an intrasquad scrimmage slated to begin at 12:30.

Buffaloes Invading La. For Tie Breaker

Two teams that have pulled themselves up by the bootstraps into respectable seasons will try to go over the .500 mark Saturday night (Nov. 15) when McNeese State's Cowboys host West Texas State University's Buffaloes in Lake Charles, La.

The Buffs, 1-4 just less than a month ago, won their third straight game last weekend when they trounced Missouri Valley Conference rival New Mexico State 38-10 in Kimbrough Stadium. Later that night, McNeese won its fourth game in its last five starts with a 31-14 decision over Northwestern Louisiana in Lake Charles.

But while those 4-4 records may be identical, the methods by which they were obtained has been contrasting. West Texas State lived by its defense through the first half of the season until the offense came around. In the three-game winning streak now in progress, the Buffs have averaged almost 370 yards per game on the ground, 431 yards total offense, and almost 36 points per game.

The execution of quarterback Tully Blanchard in handling the Buffaloes' wishbone has been a big reason in the turnaround, but McNeese does it differently. The Cowboy quarterback, senior Johnnie Thibodeaux, is generally considered to be the best double-threat quarterback in Louisiana.

Thibodeaux, a senior from New Iberia, has rushed for 151 yards this year out of the MSU "Flying-I" formation, and passed for an additional 712. He's scored six TDs and passed for three more.

As with any I-formation team, the star of the show may be sophomore tailback Mike McArthur. He's the leading rusher with 578 yards on 129 carries.

Back to West Texas State. Anthony Dogan and Bo Robinson have been the backs taking the most handoffs from Blanchard in the winn skein. Dogan is the Buffs leading rusher with 393 yards on just 62 carries, and Robinson is right behind with 369 steps on 91 totes.

Blanchard's improved passing has helped open the running attack. Against New Mexico State, he completed three of six passes for 57 yards, including a 19-yard touchdown strike to tight end Jeff Lloyd. Late in the game, reserve QB Bill Delandy added a 50-yard scoring bomb to Mickey Matthews.

The passing defense has been just as improved. In three games, the Buffs have intercepted seven opponent aerials, putting their season total at 13. Strong safety Mishael Kelson has been the most productive thief with four interceptions for a total return yardage of 148 yards. Kelson's partner at weak safety, Mike Lozano, has picked off four also for 48 yards.

Following Saturday night's contest in Louisiana, the Buffs will close their 1975 home schedule in Kimbrough Stadium on Nov. 22 when they host Louisville. That game will have a 1:30 p.m. starting time.

Canyon Girls' Goal: State Championship

Another trip to the state finals, but this time with the result another championship crown, is the goal of the Canyon Girl Eagles, as they go into their season opener this week.

The girls open without benefit of scrimmage sessions Saturday at the Plainview clinic in Plainview against Phillips.

Then, it's almost two games per week until mid-February, when the girls hope they'll be going to Austin, this time to win a state title.

Coach Bob Schneider has the material to go to Austin again, with several returnees from the 1974-75 squad which won the runner-up position in the state tournament.

"We hope to go back down there," he said. "Our primary goal is to win the state championship."

Schneider has more than faith to go on when he says he wants the state title for Canyon.

He has returning, for example, all his starting forwards from last season, including the sensational Robena Johnson, whose knee is said to be doing very well after off-season surgery.

Louise Davis and Becky Williams, also returning starters, fill out the forward side of the Eagle offense. Deedee Johnson, who gained a good deal of experience last year, will also be returning to the squad.

Other forwards to add depth to the team will be Glenda Williams and Tammy Blewett.

Two all-state guards have left the Canyon team through graduation and only Marcie Davis returns from a starting berth. Lisa Cathey, Janet Sluder and Renee McDonald, all who saw action last year, will fill out the guard side of the team.

Others on the team will be Sharon Brown, a sophomore, Melinda Jones, a junior varsity player last year, and Kim Howell, another JV transfer.

The Eagles will face the usual array of AA, and AAA teams before they go into district action in late January.

But, to win the district this year, they will face an additional team in the conference.

Schneider said Levelland, which has been playing only junior varsity ball for several years, has added a girls team to the UIL schedule this year.

In addition, District challengers will also include Dumas and Muleshoe.

"Muleshoe is always tough," Schneider said of the district matches. "But, we played Levelland last year with our junior varsity and they had some good-looking kids. They'll be able to compete because they were all sophomores and juniors last year."

Dumas, too, said Schneider, has some good players with most of the players returnees from last year's squad. Dumas will have a new coach this year.

Should the Girl Eagles get through district action without a hitch, they will face only AAA teams in the play-offs. In the past, according to Schneider, they have faced AAAA teams, AAA teams or AA teams.

Schneider is pleased with the make-up of the team this year.

"We're probably not as quick as we have been on the guard end, but overall we may have a little more height," he said. "I hope we'll be quicker later."

The first team on Canyon's schedule, Phillips, was a state crown contender last year and Schneider believes the team will pose a good test for the Canyon girls.

Test Time For CHS

High school students who haven't earned exemption will face quarter exams today and tomorrow.

Exemptions, and time off from school for the exam days, are granted to students who have not been absent and tardy more than twice during the quarter, have not committed a major disciplinary infraction, such as being absent unexcused, and who are passing the course.

To The New School Bonds

Impractical:

To build new Canyon schools in the shadow of fine new Amarillo school facilities makes just as much sense as for the University of Texas to build a new branch in Norman, Oklahoma. Let's insist that Amarillo taxpayers pay for educating Amarillo children.

Fiscal Irresponsibility:

This proposal to duplicate existing Amarillo school facilities at the expense of Canyon School District taxpayers smacks of the kind of fiscal irresponsibility that caused the bankrupcy of New York City. We will pay for this folly for generations if this issue is allowed to pass.

150% Tax Valuation Increase:

The proposed tax valuation increase from 40% to 100% of value represents a whopping 150% initial increase, and this is just to support the $6 million indebtedness to construct the schools. They will have to come back for more to pay for operations as time and inflation advances.

End Busing:

Next let's elect a new School Board that will insist that the Amarillo School District assume responsibility for the education of all children who live north of an approximate halfway line between Amarillo and Canyon, and will end wasteful and inconvenient busing from that area to Canyon Schools.

It is morally wrong to force any child to attend a school except the one closest to his home.

Let's replace this "Missionary" School Board that insists on spreading Canyon type education "all around" with a new School Board who will concentrate on improving and maintaining existing facilities for the benefit of children living within a practical distance of Canyon or where closer schools do not exist.

We Will Support:

A practical and much smaller bond issue for the purpose of enlarging and improving the existing facilities would be supported and I feel would be passed by the taxpayer voters.

I speak herein as a Canyon homeowner and taxpayer and in no other capacity. I invite and urge careful study of the issues in this matter and I suggest that others on both sides of the question let their voices be heard and that everyone vote their conviction on December 9th.

Triplets Make Addition To McClish Household

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McClish of Sunday Canyon, east of the city, announce the birth of triplets on Nov. 9 at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

The McClish family was expecting an addition of twins, but were surprised at the weekend birth of premature triplets including two boys and a girl.

Mr. McClish is the manager of Elmer Auto Supply in Amarillo and the couple has one other daughter, Michelle, age 5.

Following the triplet birth at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo, the newborn infants were transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital where they are presently being cared for in intensive care.

The first-born of the triplets was a boy weighing 2-pounds, 12½-ounces who has been named Benjamin Bryan. The other baby boy weighed 2-pounds 1½-ounces at birth and has been named Nathan Blaine and the girl of the trio weighed 2-pounds, 9-ounces at birth and has been named Melissa Elaine.

Joining the McClish family in the announcement of the triplet birth are grandparents: Lonnie and Ruthene Malone of Amarillo and Earl and Lillie McClish, also of Amarillo. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Zeck of Amarillo and Mrs. Opal Zeck of Long Beach, California.

Group Seeks Bond Contributions

Mrs. Vondean McGregor, who is co-chairman of a publicity committee for the Canyon School District, is seeking $1 donations from local residents to help finance advertising in support of a Dec. 9 school bond issue election.

Mrs. McGregor said those interested in donating should contact her at 655-7116.

The Canyon School Board recently decided $6 million in bonds will be issued to finance construction of two new schools in the district, should voters give an okay to the proposal in a Dec. 9 election.

The publicity committee was formed by the board to help publicize the bond issue.

Umbarger News

By REBA RAEF

WITH OUR SAUSAGE Festival behind us, we are a tired, but grateful little community.

We were blessed with a nice day and had a big crowd. We fed about 3600 people, and our country store and bazaar were sold out.

In the raffle, the $200 cash prize went to Genelle Woods, of Canyon; ½-beef, to Carroll Adams of Umbarger; ¼-processed beef, Adella Friemel, Umbarger; ¼-processed beef, Cotton Friemel, Umbarger; 2 tires, Jake Keeling, Umbarger; 20-piece set Franciscian Earthenware dishes, Andy Raef, Bitburg, Germany; 25-lbs. sausage, Vincent Friemel, Umbarger; 2 mud-grip tires, Cotton Friemel; Electric yard light, Vincent Friemel; 100 gallons of gas, Bernie Wieck, Umbarger; Electric Broiler oven, Carl Frische, Umbarger; 1 tire, Jim Grabber, Umbarger; 10-lbs. sausage, Mrs. Tony Handing, Umbarger; $25 gift certificate, Steve Brandt, Umbarger; and $10 gift certificate, Jack Brandt, Umbarger.

In the bazaar raffle, the 1st prize, a bed quilt, went to Mrs. Harry Brorman, Hereford; 2nd prize, a crocheted doily, Mrs. J.W. O'Dell, Amarillo; 3rd prize, a baby quilt, Paula Jenkins, Amarillo and 4th, "Snoopy," a stuffed toy, Frances Gerber, Umbarger.

ST. MARY'S ALTAR Society is selling German cookbooks, which contain recipes from the Umbarger community. They sell for $1.25 and you may get one from Altar Society members or at our store in Umbarger.

COTTON AND RICHARD Friemel attended funeral services last Friday, for their little grandson, Anthony John Detten, son of Paul and Evelyn Detten of St. Francis.

The infant was born on Sunday, November 2nd and died on Wednesday, November 5th. Our sincere sympathy to the family.

MR. AND MRS. Scott Bridges and son, Scotty, stopped by last Friday, to visit with Andy and Edith. Scott is an Air Force buddy of Andy's and they were enroute to Offett Air Force Base, near Omaha, Neb. They left on Sunday. Then on Saturday, Edith's sister and brother-in-law, Doris and Jerry Solt came from Denver and visited till Andy left too.

OUR HOUSE IS terribly quiet now — we got Tom off to Clovis on Monday and Andy and Edith off to Germany on Tuesday. Lewie, Jr., is here for a short visit, but the house will still be pretty quiet. We are going to miss those two little girls, and, of course, Andy and Edith.

I SAW SO many former Umbarger people at the Festival, guess I won't mention names for fear I might not name them all. It sure was nice to have them come home, though.

THE COOKBOOK, THAT I mentioned earlier, has not only good recipes, but some good hints and sayings. Thought you might enjoy this one.

"How to bake a Cake." Light oven. Get out bowl, spoons and ingredients. Grease pans, chop nuts. Remove 18 blocks and 7 toy autos from the kitchen table.

Measure 2 cups flour, remove kids hands from flour; wash kids. Measure 1 cup flour to replace flour on floor.

Put flour, salt, baking powder in sifter. Get dustpan and sweep up pieces of bowl, which said kids knocked on floor. Get another bowl.

Answer doorbell. Answer phone. Bandage foot cut on missed piece of bowl.

Return to kitchen. Remove kids hands from bowl. Wash kids. Get out eggs. Answer phone.

Take greased pan and remove ¼-inch salt. Look for kid that did it. Grease another pan. Answer doorbell, then phone (always timed for togetherness).

Return to kitchen and remove kids hands from bowl; wash shortening, etc., off of them. Take up greased pan and remove chopped egg shells layering bottom. Head for kids who flee, knocking bowl off table with mixer still going.

Wash kitchen floor, table, ceiling, walls, dishes, kids. Call the baker. Lie down and cry.

With that, I'll sign off. Please call me with your news items.. Reba.

Randall County commissioners toured their new South Amarillo courthouse annex Monday morning before voting to accept the building later that day. The new annex is to be fully functional in early December. It was constructed at a cost of more than $600,000.

City Ambulance To Continue Service

Canyon Ambulance Service will continue to provide service for the city at least for the foreseeable future.

Randall County commissioners voted Monday to increase their monthly subsidy to the ambulance service from $800 to $1000 and to advance Operator Richard Bertrand $2000 to be repaid in monthly installments.

Their action also affects the stand of the board of the South Randall County Hospital District, which voted at an October session to participate in the continued subsidy of the service only if Randall County did so.

The City of Canyon has already agreed to pay the increased subsidy and advance the loan money.

Bertrand has said the increase in subsidy will put his service on even ground after an admittedly shaky start last spring.

County Commissioner Paul Lindsey recommended to other commissioners Monday that the service subsidy be increased and a proposal from Metropolitan Ambulance Service of Amarillo be rejected. The Amarillo service had offered to put one ambulance in Canyon at a monthly cost of $3600 to be split up by the three governmental units.

Lindsey indicated the three entities may also try to negotiate with Bertrand for a three-year contract on the subsidy payments. The $6000 in loans from the three units is to be repaid in three years, he said.

Lindsey said the ambulance service investment is largely protected because the hospital district has been granted a lien on the ambulance and gear.

Bertrand has agreed, he said, to allow a local accountant to operate the business end of the operation.

City, hospital and county officials met two months ago in an unannounced session to discuss the ambulance service's future.

Mayor Manly Bryan termed the service on "shaky" ground at that time and the three units were asked to increase their subsidies.

Coordinating Board To Visit WT

A team from the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, which has been granted new and far-reaching powers over higher education in the state, will be on the West Texas State University campus in early December to review the role and scope of the university.

The visit is the first to the campus from the state board, which was given new powers to control proliferation of courses, programs and buildings on university campuses by state legislators last spring.

Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, academic vice president at the university, said the team will gather information during the visit upon which future decisions by the board will be made concerning new programs, courses and campus structures can be based.

In preparation for the visit, the university has been preparing a long-range view of what programs, courses and buildings might be required in the next five years or what programs, courses might be eliminated during the next five years, according to Dr. Ronald Huffstutler, assistant academic vice president.

Huffstutler said it appears the coordinating board will be concerned in the future over whether program and course requests fit into the overall role and scope of a university before new programs or courses are okayed.

The role, he said, is the types of degrees the university is authorized to offer and the scope is the extent of the offerings in each particular field.

"The board is looking at curtailing the proliferation of courses across the state and saving tax money," he said.

Huffstutler said the five-year plans which will be presented the coordinating board team in December will be "optimistic."

Malzahn indicated the university will "keep our feet in the door" on proposals for two doctoral programs, one to be offered by the College of Education and one jointly by the School of Business and the School of Agriculture.

Church Time Changed

St. Paul Lutheran Church of Canyon will begin conducting morning worship on Sunday at 8:45 a.m. with Rev. Lewis C. Castens as the fill-in pastor.

The Sunday School and Bible Classes will be conducted at 10 a.m.

trict just off Hollywood Road and east of the Canyon Expressway. The board has not yet said where the elementary school will be located, but two citizens committees recommended recently both schools be in the north part of the district.

"To build new Canyon schools in the shadow of fine new Amarillo school facilities makes just as much sense as for the University of Texas to build a new branch in Norman, Okla.," he says in an advertisement in today's News. "Let's insist that Amarillo taxpayers pay for educating Amarillo children."

Busing is also apparently an issue for Collins.

"It is morally wrong to force any child to attend a school except the one closest to his home," he says. "Let's replace this 'missionary' school board that insists on spreading Canyon type education all around with a new school board who will concentrate on improving and maintaining existing facilities for the benefit of children living within a practical distance of Canyon or where closer schools do not exist."

In addition, Collins opposes the increase in taxes which the bond issue will demand.

"A practical and much smaller bond issue for the purpose of enlarging and improving the existing facilities would be supported and I feel would be passed by the taxpayer voters," he says.

Collins' is the first visible opposition expressed locally to the idea of a $6 million bond issue for construction of the two new schools.

School board members have called a special election on Dec. 9, when voters will be given the opportunity to vote yes or no on issuance of the bonds for the construction projects.

Two citizens groups, consisting of about 60 persons, recently recommended to the board, which has also studied the matter for two years, that two new schools be built in the north part of the district.

Another citizens group, using CISD funds, is planning a publicity drive in support of the bond issue proposal.

veterans exemptions under a new state law.

They also agreed to lease two new radar units for Texas Department of Public Safety units in the county. Total cost of the two units will be $4000.

Commissioners voted to accept the new South Amarillo courthouse annex, constructed at South Georgia and the Canyon Expressway at a cost of just over $600,000.

Bob Davis of Underwood, Newhaus, Inc. of Houston, financial advisor for the construction of the building, said his firm would refund certificates of obligation into general obligation bonds for the county at an interest rate of 5.75 per cent for a 10-year period.

Final approval on the offer will be given this morning when commissioners meet in special session.

Approval was given for the purchase of about $3000 worth of galvanized pipe for erection of new county road signs.

with an additional $140,000 next year out of local sources.

Altogether, Jacobs said he anticipates inflation to add about 3 per cent to the operating budget next year.

The current plan, Jacobs said, for issuance of bonds is that about $1 to $1½ million in bonds will be issued next spring to begin work on a new elementary school.

Then Davis would be given the chance to have three or four months to figure the best time to sell the remainder of the bonds to complete construction of the two projects.

Canyon School Board members have called a special election on Dec. 9 for voters to vote for or against the issuance of $6 million in bonds for the two new schools construction.

Volunteer Museum Workers Have Meet

Volunteer work areas benefitting the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon were discussed by members and guests of the museum's Auxiliary at a membership meeting Tuesday morning, Nov. 11.

Bobby Henson, membership chairman for the Auxiliary, led the group discussion about the different fields of volunteer work being used at the museum. Included are the areas of tour guides, souvenier sales desk aides, research and archives work being conducted at home by various members of the Auxiliary.

Eight Auxiliary members were on hand for the membership session along with seven guests as Jan Henson, daughter of the membership chairman, presided at the coffee service for the group.

A filmstrip entitled "Blue Ox" which is normally shown for sixth through ninth grade public school groups was shown to the group by Claire Kuehn of the museum staff. She noted that the horns of the animal are displayed at the museum.

Betty Morrison, Auxiliary president, was in charge of introductions as the meeting opened. Information packets giving guidelines for Auxiliary volunteer work were distributed to guests at the meeting and three joined the Auxiliary by paying membership fees, according to Mrs. Henson.

Jr. Volunteers Form Group To Aid LaCasa's Residents

A junior volunteer auxiliary to aid LaCasa Canyon Nursing Home in entertaining residents there was formed Monday evening, Nov. 10, as eleven teenagers attended an organizational meeting.

Mrs. Stelcie Williams, recreation director for the home, explained to the youth what duties would aid the residents such as letter writing, reading to patients, and playing games with the patients.

At the organizational meeting, the junior volunteers elected officers with Becky Williams selected as president. Other officers selected were Phil Brock, vice president; Mitzi Williams, secretary; Ty Pruitt, treasurer; Terry Bass and Ella Bost, reporters; Le Anna Newman, projects chairman with Robin Cooper and Robbie Rundall as assistants.

Other junior volunteers are Anne Wheeler and Kim Lackey.

On Saturday, Nov. 15, at 2 p.m. the junior volunteers will begin their service to the residents of the LaCasa Canyon Nursing Home and extend an open invitation to other junior high and high school students to join them there.

Joint. . .

upgrading water and sewer facilities to accommodate rapid growth of the city.

Randall County commissioners said they have no plans for any kind of bond issue in the future.

Bruce Aycock, Amarillo city attorney, briefly informed the four governmental units on a civil lawsuit filed against all the commissioners and the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission executive director asking a state judge to declare the organization unconstitutional.

Aycock agreed to coordinate with counsel from the other governmental bodies to prepare an answer to the suit, which was filed in the 47th District Court in Amarillo by Dr. Donald Todd, a West Texas State University music professor, and others.

The four entities agreed to meet again on the third Thursday in January for another session. Tentative topic for the meeting will be joint jail facilities.

Similar joint meetings were abandoned in the summer of 1974 after being held bi-monthly for only about a year.

A cozy place to wait is what the volunteer firemen are making of their room at the civic complex. Volunteers built the fireplace and are furnishing the room with comfortable loungers.

Automation comes to bill paying when the water department's new drive-in window gets in operation at the civic complex. Motorists will deposit their payment in compartment and the transaction will be carried by pneumatic tube back to the building on the right of the car. City water clerks Lola Caraway and Mist Wilson demonstrated the machine on an informal tour of the building this week.

A drive-in window will make paying the water bill a bit more convenient at the new city complex. A push of the service button on face of the machine will alert the teller inside the complex to the right of the car and automatically open the trap door for the motorist to deposit the payment. Then a push of the dispatch button sends the transaction through a pneumatic tube to the teller. Here, water clerks, Lola Caraway, in car, and Mist Wilson, give the system a trial.

Count Your Blessings As Thanksgiving Nears

By KAROLYN FARMER

YOU CAN BET your bottom dollar that life has its ups and downs. But that's the way the ball bounces; and tomorrow is another day.

We all use these phrases and many others in our everyday conversations. There's just no telling how many times we've asked, "How are you?", usually without even waiting for or expecting an answer.

There is one phrase though that hardly any of us think or say nearly as often as we should.

In spite of high prices and even higher taxes, we still have more money and "things" than any other group of people in the world.

It would be a good thing for all of us to take time in the next couple of weeks to "Count our many blessings, name them one by one," so that this Thanksgiving we can say — and really mean it — "Thank you, Lord."

ALL THE KIDS at Gene Howe School certainly have something new to be thankful for. New playground equipment is being installed this week by the Amarillo Park and Recreation Department as part of the development of Gene Howe Park.

A new swing set, slide, "Kangaroo Hop" and "Bounce-A-Whirl" will all be providing lots of fun and action for our children.

KEN CATES, TIM Nash and Jay Thomas were among a group of 350 Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts who went to New Mexico last weekend.

The eight bus loads of young people and their sponsors left Amarillo in the early hours of Friday morning and drove to Albuquerque. There they toured Sandia, the Field Command Museum and "Old Town."

On Saturday the group went to Los Alamos where they visited the Bradbury Science Hall & Museum and the Meson Physics Facility. They returned to Amarillo on Saturday evening.

The trip was a reward for the young people who had all earned their Atomic Energy Merit Badges. They began work on the badges on Oct. 8.

Besides meeting each Saturday morning to study different aspects of atomic energy, the Scouts also conducted home experiments on nuclear fission and radiation.

Tim Seth was among the Boy Scouts in our area who earned the Atomic Energy Badge, but Tim became ill on Friday morning and couldn't take part in the field trip.

THE AFTERNOON KINDERGARTEN students of Anita Harp and Pam Layman enjoyed another field trip this week. On Wednesday afternoon the children went to radio station KPUR where they visited with disc jockey C.C. Crowe, who is better known as "The Big Bird."

All the children enjoyed touring the radio station and learning how to be disc jockeys.

Plans are also being made for "The Big Bird" to come to Gene Howe School to talk to the morning Kindergarten classes.

EARL AND EVA Marrs recently returned from a trip to Nassau and the Bahamas. Mr. and Mrs. Marrs were part of a group of 150 people from all over the Panhandle who spent seven days enjoying the tropical islands.

One of the most exciting parts of the trip for the Marrs was the deep sea fishing. Earl brought in a 54 inch Wahoo — his biggest catch ever — and Eva managed to catch a barracuda.

Eva says they were especially fascinated by the beautiful ocean surrounding the islands; the waters are a deep, gorgeous blue color.

Next on the Marrs' agenda was a stop in Florida, where they enjoyed visiting Disney World.

Earl and Eva then flew to Washington, D.C. to attend their son's wedding. Mike Marrs, a former graduate of Canyon High School, and his bride, Kathy, were married in a garden wedding on Nov. 1. Mike is employed as a computer engineer with Softwares, Inc. in Washington, D.C.

Besides taking part in the wedding festivities, the Marrs also enjoyed visiting the White House and the Smithsonian Institute while in our nation's capitol.

BERT THOMAS WAS honored last week on the happy (?) occasion of his 40th birthday. Bert's "big day" was officially Nov. 6, but he was joined by wife Linda and several friends for his "40 Party" on Saturday.

The group enjoyed the dinner prepared by Linda and then spent the evening playing "42" (which certainly seems appropriate for the occasion).

Among Bert's birthday presents was a giant fish hook carved out of wood from Tommy Ford.

Bert has recently returned home from a fishing trip to Old Mexico. Also in the party of four men who enjoyed several days of fishing and relaxing was the famous evangelist, James Robison. Although the group caught over 600 fish, they were only allowed to bring 80 back into the States.

At the end of the week, Linda flew to Dallas to meet Bert. There the Thomases enjoyed a weekend of shopping and visiting with friends.

LORI, ALLISON, MELANY and Wendy Kitten all spent last weekend visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schulte, in Hereford.

Mrs. Schulte manages the Gunn Bros. Stamp Store in Hereford, and the girls especially enjoyed helping Grandma "mind the store."

BASKETBALL SEASON IS underway and the 6th grade girls team has a perfect record so far. The girls played two practice games last week. They beat St. Joseph's by a score of 35 to 9. They won against Western Plateau by a score of 52 to 1.

Loydell Tennison is coaching the team, assisted by her husband, Delbert. Playing on the team are: Denise Tennison, Sharon Mester, Melinda Yarbrough, Tanya Brown, Kim Howard, Angie Copeland, Judy Nuzum, Jan Phipps, Teresa Polvadore and Kristy White.

THE SECOND GRADERS in Mrs. Pat Stevens' room were "Showing and Telling" when I visited them this week.

Tina Cassetty had brought a Mickey Mouse toy which her mother had given her, and showed her classmates "Mickey's" acrobatic stunts.

Jay Newkirk told about his family's trip to Palo Duro Canyon the previous weekend, and how he rescued his little brother from a cave before the snakes bit him.

Delia Jolley told everyone about her grandfather's garage sale, while Christy Thomas told about her father's birthday party.

Shylene Wood brought a potholder which she had made, while Donna McBee showed the class a towel holder which her uncle had made for her.

Dana Avant displayed her birthstone necklace, and Christy Hoffman told about her doll that was made out of Levis.

Mrs. Stevens' classroom is brightly decorated in autumn and Thanksgiving themes. One bulletin board features a 3-dimensional turkey wearing a big black pilgrim's hat.

On another bulletin board are lots of autumn leaves and pictures of autumn scenes. Pictures drawn by the children of their families fill still another bulletin board in the room.

After "Show and Tell," the class began their math studies, led by Marva Rowan, who is doing her student teaching in Mrs. Stevens' room. Marva set up a display of milk cartons and jars to help the children learn different units of liquid measurements.

Marva really held their interest as she poured water from one container to another to prove that even though they looked different, they still held the same amount.

Members of Pat Stevens' class who celebrate their birthdays in November are Danny Hawkins, on Nov. 18, and Lori Kitten, Nov. 29.

MARVA ROWAN IS just one of the many students from WT who are doing their student teaching at Gene Howe this fall. Marva is a senior and is planning to graduate next spring.

She is originally from Pampa and is the daughter of Marvin and June Rowan.

Monday, Nov. 10th, was Marva's birthday and the students of Pat Stevens' 2nd grade class presented her with handmade birthday cards.

Clifton Carter summed it up when he wrote, "Happe Berthday Dera Mis Rowan."

ERNESTINE AND DENA Harp, along with Ernestine's mother, Mrs. Girdie Simpson, went to Memphis, Tex. last weekend. They enjoyed visiting both with Bill's relatives and with Ernestine's sister, Mrs. V.A. Shelton, Mr. Shelton and Tracy.

DOT FORD AND Ellen Wilson went to Shamrock, Tex. last Thursday to visit the Special Education Department of the Eastern Panhandle Cooperative, which serves eight area schools.

They consulted with special education counselor, Mr. Kenneth Baxter, concerning the cooperative's efforts in working with SOI materials in their special ed classes.

ELLEN WILSON RECEIVED an "anonymous" gift this past week. When she entered her classroom one morning she found draped across her desk a large rug proclaiming "This is Aggie Land" and featuring a picture of the "Aggie Sarge."

Both Ellen and Grady Wilson are graduates of Texas A&M (and are extremely proud of it, too). Ellen is serving this year as Secretary-Treasurer of the Amarillo A&M Club (and is also the first woman to hold an office with the former A&M students' organization).

MEMBERS OF THE Gene Howe faculty and staff spent most of last Friday attending meetings of the Texas State Teachers Association Convention held in Amarillo.

Luther Lawless was re-elected as treasurer of District XVI. Our librarian, Elizabeth Bellamy, will serve this coming year as chairman of the Library Division.

MARLA McGILL WAS one of a group of WT students who attended a meeting of the National Association of Teachers of Singing last weekend at Baylor University.

Marla is the daughter of Gloria McGill, one of our fourth grade teachers at Gene Howe.

DR. MARIAN GILES will be conducting special classes for each of the grade levels this Friday at Gene Howe. The children will meet with Dr. Giles, one grade level at a time, in the school auditorium, where she will work with them on such things as phonics, spelling and handwriting, concentrating on only one subject with each grade.

NEXT WEEK IS National Book Week and the teachers and students at Gene Howe will be emphasizing the importance of reading through the use of posters, plays and, of course, more reading.

Elizabeth Bellamy and her assistants will be providing special decorations for the school library.

This would be a good time for you to encourage your child by inviting him or her to read a story to you.

"LEARNING DISABILITIES IN the Adolescent Years" will be the topic of the November meeting of the North Plains ACLD. All parents and teachers of children with learning disabilities are invited to attend the meeting which will be held in the parlor of the First Christian Church in Amarillo at 7:30 on Nov. 20th.

Following a short film which describes the behavior and feelings of a teen-ager who has a learning disability, the guest speakers will be Mrs. Donna Forbes and Mr. Lamar Lively.

Mrs. Forbes is the language and learning disabilities therapist at Canyon Junior High School. She served on the Governor's Advisory Council the first year that LLD was instigated in the Texas public schools.

Mr. Lively is assistant superintendent for secondary education in the Amarillo Independent School District.

Many people are unaware of work being done in the local schools for the learning disabled adolescent. Mrs. Forbes and Mr. Lively will discuss opportunities offered by the Canyon and Amarillo schools to these young people.

Mrs. William (Gene Ann) Grant will host the Mother's Rap Session at her home, 4406 Tawney, at 10 a.m., Tuesday morning, Nov. 25. All mothers of LD children are especially invited and urged to attend.

MRS. EARL FORD and Berta, the mother and sister of Tommy Ford, drove from Vernon last Friday for a visit with Tommy, Linda and children.

Corey, who is in the 9th grade at CJHS, and Jana, who is an 8th grader, were among the many area young people who participated in the All-Region Choir last Saturday.

The choir rehearsed all day Saturday and presented a program that evening at Bonham Jr. High in Amarillo.

All of the Fords, including Amy, attended and enjoyed the program.

CAN YOU BELIEVE it's almost Gene Howe Chili Supper Night! Please, please don't let anything keep you from being at the school on Friday evening, Nov. 21.

The serving lines will be open from 5 to 8. Tickets are $1.50 for school age children and adults, and 50 cents for pre-schoolers.

Not only is the Chili Supper the most important fund raising project of the PTA, but it's also a great chance for all of us to visit, meet new people and enjoy working together for the benefit of our children and our school.

Siesta Noticias

Cool Snap Reminder Of Things To Come

By DORIS McKEE

MY OH MY! Sure did cool off just a mite, early this week. It has been pretty so long, I'm afraid it's really going to hurt when the bad weather does come to stay.

Just a couple of weeks now, until turkey day. That's the time when you go home to Mom's and stuff yourself.

GUESS WE'LL START off with a big welcome to some newcomers, here at Siesta. Dan and Sylvia Hollifield and family Lori, Glenn and Tawnya formerly of Tucson, Ariz. now reside at 125 Siesta.

Jerry and Mary Ann Leahew and daughter Tina, formerly of Kansas City, Mo. now reside at 213 Loma Linda.

Gene and Diana Oakley and family, Diane, Debbie, Sherri and Greg formerly of Amarillo now reside at 257 La Fiesta.

We hope each and everyone of you will like it here at Siesta.

SEEMS THE HOFFMAN'S had a fall vacation. Jon, Diana, Marty and Christi loaded into the car last Saturday afternoon and headed for Kansas.

Their first stop was at Harper where they visited with Diana's grandmother, Faye Diehl for several hours.

They then drove over to Elsmore where they spent a very enjoyable week on a dairy farm, visiting Diana's parents, Carlos and Louise Cantrell.

At the end of the week they drove over to spend the night and a day with Jon's folks Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hoffman, at Kiowa.

As Sunday evening rolled around the Jon Hoffmans loaded into their car and headed for home.

ON ROYCE AND my 16th Anniversary last Thursday, I was taken out to eat twice. We had a small lunch out then for supper we went to the cafeteria and enjoyed a great meal. We also got a stereo for this anniversary.

* * *

BOY AND CUB Scout Pack 77 is trying to reorganize here in Siesta. There was a meeting on Monday, Nov. 10th, at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation building.

RAYLENE QUALLS AND her family had some guests a few days last week. Her sister Linda Lawrence and her two sons, Darrin and Bryn, spent a few days.

Linda and hubby, Jim lived in Spearman, but are at present in transit to Boonesville, Ark. where they will live.

Raylene and boys, Paul, Guy and Jamey Glenn along with Linda and her two boys went to Brownfield one day to see their father and mother, Raymond and Kay DeBusk. They also stopped by Meadow, Tex. to see Raylene's grandmother Alma Wright.

EUNICE AND BARNEY Rinehart went to Hobbs, N.M. the latter part of last week. They spent several days with Barney's sister, Vera Tate.

WAS GLAD TO see Susie Singletary back on her feet and doing O.K. after her stay in the hospital recently. She is Oleta Potter's mother.

WE WANT TO wish Guy Qualls a Happy Birthday. Guy turned 6 on Nov. 9th and celebrated with a party in the recreation room. The party began at 4:00 p.m. Games were played, gifts were opened and cake and punch were served. Everyone seemed to have a great time.

Those attending were Annette and Danny Pope, Kellie and Cathy Whirley, DeAnn McKee, Johnny Rebeaud, Paul Qualls, Ann Rebeaud, Raylene and myself.

ED, ANN, MARK, Phillip, Edward and Johnny Rebeaud of 121 Siesta made a trip to Fort Worth recently.

* * *

TUESDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 11th Ann Rebeaud had a tupperware party.

ON SATURDAY BROWNIE Troop 71 held a combination meeting and birthday party in the recreation room.

The party was for Debbie Oakley who was 9 on the 8th of November. There were thirteen girls present, and they all had a great time. Diana Oakley is the Leader for this Troop. We extend our belated Happy Birthday Wishes!

* * *

DON'T FORGET THE Lamount Drive Baptist bus runs every Sunday morning at 9:10. If you need a ride to Sunday School and Church, catch it at the recreation room.

* * *

ONE OTHER DON'T. Don't forget to go vote on December 9th on the bond election. If you think you might be out of town vote absentee beforehand.

TIME TO LAY aside the ole pen for now, but will be here next time, so Keep on Reading.

Thought for this week "Smile! It's Contagious."

See ya.

The Canyon Scouts will provide pennies denoting their own birthday in honor of the founder's birthday. The funds collected will then be used to promote scouting efforts around the world in honor of the founder, Juliette Low.

Natalie Stevenson of the district scout office will conduct a sing song featuring the second grade Brownies and show a film about scouting during the evening.

Cadette Troop 54 will open the meeting with a flag ceremony. All Scouts and Brownies and their parents are encouraged to attend the event.

MARY JANE MILLER and I attended the Five State CowBelle meeting in Clayton, New Mexico last Thursday. That was also the day that Happy played its very last football game of the season and I didn't want to miss that, so . . .

My brother, Cecil Hayes, took time out to fly us to Clayton. We landed at Clayton Airport about 11:40 and drove to downtown Clayton and the newly renovated Eklund Hotel on Maine Street in a courtesy car provided at the airport by the Citizens State Bank.

Lariat CowBelles originated the idea of the Five State CowBelle meeting and hostessed the first one, a luncheon. Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico were invited. About eighty attended. State presidents and local presidents presented beef promotion and beef education reports.

The greatest idea came from Lariat CowBelles themselves. They have adopted a sister city, Clayton, New Jersey, and are exchanging beef promotion ideas in an effort to help each other promote beef in both areas.

Oklahoma invited the Five State Meeting for next year. Texas extended the invitation for the year after that. Looks as if CowBelles are going to make this an annual affair.
